

WHICH IS THE SKY

Songwriters: Janie Bradford and Raynard Miner

Which way, Which way, Which way is the sky ...

Which way is the sky - when rain is falling from my eyes
I've lost my sense of all directions
Is it up or is it down - hey there's my heart up on the ground
Turning gray and pale in its complexion

We rode the wind till the world fell on in
And suddenly it came to me - that the sky is where the sea should be
Which way, which way which is the sky

Which way is the sky
My mind is clouding up to cry - I just got a tornado warning
It's a whirlpool painted black - cause you ain't never coming back
My heart keeps right on turning

We rode the wind till the world fell on in
And suddenly it came to me that the sky is where the sea should be
Which way, Which Way, Which Way is the sky

Which way is the sky
Since you left where am I - I'm lost in so much confusion
Though I was standing here but my soul won't appear
I guess it was just an illusion

We rode the wind till the world fell on in
And suddenly it came to me that the sky is where the sea should be
Which way, Which way, Which way is the sky
